

An ornate, black and white decorative border surrounds the text. At the top, two figures work at a table with a large chest. To the right, another figure stands by a shelf with boxes. The border is filled with intricate scrollwork, floral patterns, and various Masonic symbols: a square and compass on the left, a triangle with a face and a star on the left side, a pair of shears on the right side, and a bell on the right side. At the bottom, a winged cherub sits on a cloud, holding a scroll.
